

A Seed of Wheat

1. A seed of wheat lies in your hand, a ker-nel hard and round.
2. At first the ground will seem to sleep; yet, si-lent and un-seen,
3. A lit-tle plant will op-en up, a stalk will raise its head,
4. So you will nev-er keep your life if it's your dear-est friend,

A seed must die if it would live, so drop it in the ground.
up through the stones and clods of earth will rise a thread of green.
and on it ma-ny grains will grow, be-cause your seed is dead.
but if you spend your life for Christ, you'll gain it in the end.
